COFFEE HISTORY

Story No. 4

Coffee was not brought to Arabia until the 15th Century, yet it soon became as important to that country as tea is to China.

It was Arabian Coffee, shipped through the port of Mocha, that shed a glamour around the name "Mocha" and led the world into applying it to millions of tons that never saw Arabia.

Hospitality Begins at White House

THE President and Mrs. Harding are inaugurating a most hospitable regime at the White House. They were hosts at luncheon today, having as guests six members of the Women's Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee, and tonight they will entertain at dinner for a distinguished group of Senators and Congressmen. This afternoon they will be guests of honor at the National Press Club's Hobby Party at Keith's Theater.

Yesterday afternoon the President and Mrs. Harding received many callers and the President devoted the greater part of the morning to his correspondence. However, he and Mrs. Harding slipped away from the White House in the early morning long enough to have breakfast at Grasslands with a little group of Mr. Harding's former colleagues in the Senate. They dined at home with the little party of relatives who are visiting them and a few additional guests, including Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Scooby, of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Cress, of Brownsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jennings, of Columbia.

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the Vice President, was the guest of honor at the luncheon given today at the Chevy Chase Club by Mrs. James B. Reynolds. The guests were: Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, Mrs. Harry S. New, Fred W. Upman, of Chicago; Mrs. A. T. Hart, of Louisville; Mrs. Wallace H. White, Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mrs. Richard C. Marshall, Mrs. Brush, of Indianapolis; Mrs. T. De Witt Talmage, Mrs. Frank W. Stearns, of Boston; Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr, Mrs. John T. Adams, of Dubuque, Iowa; Mrs. Thomas B. Hutchinson, Miss Hearlin, Mrs. Foster Stearns, and Mrs. W. Spalding.

The Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge expect to move shortly into the apartment left vacant by the former Vice President and Mrs. Marshall which is being redecorated for them. Yesterday their day began early as they went to Union Station to put their two boys, John and Calvin, Jr., on the 8 o'clock train for Boston. They also seized this opportunity to bid farewell to the party of Massachusetts State Senators who had attended the inauguration ceremonies and who had a special car on the same train.

HUGHES FETED.

The French Ambassador and Mme. Jussierand will give a reception tomorrow night at the embassy, with Charles Evans Hughes, the new Secretary of State, as the special guest. M. and Mme. Jussierand will entertain a large company of distinguished guests, many of the new officials among them. The chiefs of all the diplomatic missions in Washington, with their wives, will be included, and other friends of the French ambassador.

Col. and Mrs. Francis T. A. Junkin, who were hosts yesterday at one of the delightful series of Sunday luncheons they are giving at Twin Oaks, had as guests William F. Pierce, president of Kenyon College, and Mrs. Pierce, who are staying with them; Prince and Princess Gagarine, of the Russian embassy; Brig. Gen. and Mrs. W. L. Little, of the War Department; and Canon William A. DeVries.

In the afternoon Colonel and Mrs. Junkin were at home informally as is their custom on Sundays and received many callers. Miss Ravelle presided at the table and there was music during the afternoon. Mrs. Junkin, who is a gifted pianist, played several selections and Prince Gagarine, the possessor of a fine voice, sang.
